

THE RIPPLE EFFECT

THE END OF
THE BEGINNING
NEIL SILVERBERG
NOVEMBER 22, 2020

EndoftheBeginning Luke's ending of Acts was intentionally written to serve as a _____.

Acts suddenly comes to a halt without the story actually ending because the ongoing _____ activity is still being written today.

The sudden ending to the book of Acts presents Paul as a _____ of what it means to be 'on mission.'

The thing that constantly stands out about this man Paul is his _____ to Jesus and his mission wherever he goes.

Jesus promises the disciples that two things will constantly be happening with them. First, the Holy Spirit will be constantly making Jesus known to them so that they have continual _____ with Him. Secondly, they will be constantly bearing _____ to Jesus.

Three aspects that comprise a disciple's identity:

_____ : derived from Greek word mathetes meaning "student" or "pupil".

_____ : Jesus viewed his disciples as more than students; they were family.

_____ : a true disciple is missional.

But we often ignore entirely the disciple as a person on _____.

But there is one thing Paul is consciously aware of and was constantly asking the churches to pray for him throughout his letters that he might have it- _____.

Two things that comprise evangelism are _____ and _____.

Boldness is a fruit of the Spirit that we must constantly receive.

THE RIPPLE
EFFECT

THE END OF
THE BEGINNING
NEIL SILVERBERG
NOVEMBER 22, 2020

Fill-in-the-blank answers: cliffhanger, missional, model, commitment, fellowship, witness, rational, relational, missional, mission, boldness, affirmation, proclamation.